THE ARTIST

By Dale Neumann

The artist draws me closer
Draws me to her heart
It's as if she knows me
To use me in her art

She blinds me with her eyes
Until I cannot see
Then holds me in her heart
While making love to me

Her female grip is strong
There is no letting go
I give to her my song
Just to help her grow

Her beauty is immeasurable
The lines don't hurt at all
Her personality pleasurable
The words a charming call

She paints a pretty picture
Of life in simple ways
She weaves a fancy story
Of restless carefree days

A time of love and laughter
A time of joy and gain
A time of listless pleasure
A time to heal the pain

DURABLE

By Dale Neumann

WE went up
We came down
We got hurt
But we're still around

EARTH STARS

By Dale Neumann

Earth Stars
Visible at night
Taken in flight
High is our sight

Earth Stars
Making up the landscape
Taking on nerve-like shape
Imparting to the tape

Earth Stars
Seen only from above
From higher than dove
Expressing our love

FOOL CIRCLE

By Dale Neumann

I was foolin' around
Making trouble all over town
Then I finally found
My love's come all around

THE IMPERFECT MAN

By Dale Neumann

He tries to be perfect
The best that he can
But something will happen
To foul up his plan

He can't understand
What causes these things
Caught in the evil
Or caught in the rings

He's blinded by the future
Yet hooked on the past
He wants many things
Yet he wants them to last

He's sailing away
On uncharted ships
He's driving along
But not watching for dips

He's the perfect machine
But lacking a heart
He's looking for love
 Knows not where to start

He'll soon find an answer
To what bothers him
Then he'll be perfect
The world, not so grim

IN SEARCH OF SPUNK

By Dale Neumann

I've been looking everywhere
For a girl I could love
Some have had pretty hair
Some have fit like a glove

But it's not just the sex
With which I care
It's whether or not
They can fair

If they can't keep up
With the way I think
Then I'm better off
Without their stink

If they can't learn
When it's time to play rough
Then they're really not
All that tough

I WANT SPUNK !

LIT

By Dale Neumann

There and there aren't, but there some who will warrant.
Place yourself in the middle of life stalking eternity, but when you are over,
There will still be a clover to rover about. Now what I have said is merely a gesture,
A vulture of truth, but don't let that blind you while you're in your youth.
Play the game,
Enjoy your fun,
This is the time to romp and to run.
No telling when,
And no telling why,
Just taking your time and learning how to fly.

LOVE LETTER

By Dale Neumann

I'm drunk in your love
And I don't want to sober up
You have flown from above
To land on my buttercup

How can I express
What you do to my soul
It is I, you impress
And you are my goal

Sometimes... no , always
Maybe... no, definitely
Partially... no, completely
"Eye heart U"

NEW LOVE

By Dale Neumann

Last night was an eerie night
The moon was shrouded in lingerie
You, my love, were all alone
Waiting for me in the grey

A new beginning is our love
A happier life we foresee
I realize tonight is passing
Do we have time to agree ?

The love I see inside of you
Is helping me to be more whole
I want the love I find in you
To fill the gaps within my soul.

PEER AMID

By Dale Neumann

I work at the pyramid to get my bread.
I can't help thinking 'bout the thoughts in my head.
Used to keep thinking I was better off dead,
But bow I'm thinking all I need's a retread.

WARP ONE

By Dale Neumann

We are born warped
Into a warped world
Getting happiness
From matching the cracks

We can go out of our way
To fit a tight groove
But we may lose sight
Of the proper shape

Who holds the master key
To unlock everyone's doors?
And who can keep
All his doors open?

No matter how hard we try
To keep all the doors open
Some shut and close
By the winds of neglect

WHAT IS LIFE

By Dale Neumann

What is life?
A gentle strife
That's fought from day to day

Not understood
For chopping wood
Nor need it to pray

And so it goes
Life's full of woes
Amidst sparkles of your beauty

Often accepted
Sometimes rejected
But always seen as a duty

WISE WORDS

By Dale Neumann

Learn what you can
Cause there's never enough time
In the end you may know everything
Or nothing

XIBIT

By Dale Neumann

There was once a very angry man
Angry and he didn't know why
Everyone made it look easy
He only wanted to fly

There was once a very frustrated man
He couldn't concentrate
Could not imitate.
All he could be was cry.

He looked within for the answer
He searched his soul.
Looking for a goal
Fearing death by cancer

He looked around
And he found
Fixing the ground
Made his life sound.

So he picked up the pieces
And threw them away
Started again
A brand new day
