

Blessed

The Spiritual Equation for Success is the more you give + the less you take + the more you save + the less you waste + the more you help + the fewer you hurt + the more you make laugh + the fewer you make cry + the more souls you forgive, teach, feed, nurture, save, and make free + the fewer ones you get angry at, curse, let starve, trap, push, pull, force, drag, and try to send to hell + the more you earn honestly + the less you spend foolishly + the more You find and build bridges with Your good trustworthy friends + the less you follow the camouflaged enemies + the more you seek to learn from the life tested wise + the less you give attention to fools + the more patient and optimistic your attitude + the less you react and panic + the more you express your dreams + the less you fester with your fears + the more you surround yourself with good soft vibes + the less you subject yourself to noise and annoyances + the more you take care of your body and use every movement for the highest good + the less you abuse it and wear out the parts unnecessarily + the less you haggle and fight + the more you agree and solve + the more you plan the brightest future + the less you dwell on the nightmares of the past + the more of God's projects you responsibly start intending to one day finish + the less you worry that it is Your burden to see them through (because He is actually the Caregiver And Caretaker of each + the more time you give to thinking positive thoughts and saying positive words about ourselves, others, and God + the less time you waste complaining about and insulting those same people = the more you are going "straight" and progressing toward heaven + the fewer times you are going in circles or getting stuck in corners or suffering through what appears to be apparently needless waiting and having less feelings of loneliness and that life seems like it is dragging you into an "inferno" + the more you thrive and can "spring into action" + the fewer times you ever long fully hunger spiritually, physically, or otherwise and feel drained of energy + the happier, healthier + the more peaceful you are.